THREE SENIORS ARE NAMED TO KAPPA GAMMA PI

Virginia Lucas Chosen Association President At Student Assembly

Gertrude Bey, Ann McNamara, And Laura Lorenz Hold Other Offices.

An unanimous vote was cast by the student body at the assembly period. Monday, April 8, electing Virginia Lucas as president of the Student Association. Gertrude Bey was chosen vice-president; Ann McNamara, secretary; Laura Lorenz, treasurer. The officers are all members of the junior class.

Virginia Lucas, who will succeed Jane Hoffman, the present head of the organization, has taken a part in numerous student activities throughout her three years at Fontbonne. As a freshman she was president of her class. This year she is serving as secretary of the Student Association. Besides, she is business manager of the Font, a member of the Sodality, Press Club, Footlights Club, Legion of Mary, and is a pledge to Delta Phi. In various dramatic productions at Fontbonne she has had important roles.

Gertrude Bey is secretary of both the present junior class and the Sodality. Ann McNamara is active in the athletic department and is manager of the Riding Club. Laura Lorenz is a member of the Student Council and vice-president of Delta Phi.

The Student Association is comprised of all the students enrolled at Fontbonne. All important questions relevant to school life are discussed and voted upon at the assembly periods. The organization is in charge of the arrangements for College Day, for the annual freshman reception, and other pertinent secular curricular activities.

The Student Council, composed of representatives from every department and class in the school, as well as the officers of the Association, forms the governing board of the Association.

A boat ride on the S. S. President was inaugurated by the Association last year. The end in view was that this excursion would become an annual feature of the pre-graduation activities. The officers of the Student Association and the Student Council have begun to arrange for this year's boat ride.

Selection of Editors And Business Manager Made for Coming Year

Staff Elects Vera Stueber To Head Semi-Monthly News Publication.

As a result of a recent business meeting, an announcement comes from the Font staff of the election of Vera Stueber, '36, as editor of the 1936 newspaper and also of the appointment of Ann O'Connell as editor of the centenary number of the yearbook. Dorothy Morse was made business manager of both publications.

The annual, a bound senior edition of the Font, will be published on March 25, 1936, in keeping with the centenary celebration of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

At present the future editor holds the offices of president of the Press Club and advertising manager of the Font. She is an enthusiastic member of the riding club and will participate in the Horse Show next week. She replaces Virginia O'Hearn, the present editor.

Ann O'Connell, of the sophomore class, is a reporter on the newspaper.

Phi Beta Chi Honors Freshman Students In Science Classes

R. Muschong and C. Berkel Gain Distinction When Club Meets for Awards.

Charlotte Berkel, freshman in the biology department, and Rose Muschong of the chemistry department have been selected as the two most outstanding freshman students in science during the present scholastic year. These students were chosen by Phi Beta Chi for their scientific ability evidenced by achievement and general interest in the particular fields. The names of these students will be engraved on bronze plates and attached to a plaque which hangs in the den in Ryan Hall.

This annual selection of freshman students in science was inaugurated as a custom last year in the effort to stimulate interest in science. Last year Tattie Olivieri was named from the department of biology; Catherine Esser, from the department of chemistry. Besides the honor which distinguishes this selection, these students automatically become members

Choice of Students For Honor Sorority Decided by Faculty

Students Elected on Bases of Scholarship, Leadership, And Character.

Three members of the graduating class, Helen Moran, Catherine Scullin, and Leontone Meyer, were elected by the faculty last week for membership in Kappa Gamma Pi, national Catholic honor sorority. These students received the highest number of faculty votes, being chosen on the bases of scholarship, character, leadership, and collegiate service.

As the organization admits one student for every ten, Fontbonne's quota for 1935 is three members. Six seniors were nominated for the society including the three successful candidates and Elma Colgan, Eleanor Muller-Thym, and Jane Hoffman.

All six students will graduate in June with honors. Helen Moran will receive the degree of bachelor of science in biology; Catherine Scullin, bachelor of arts in Latin; Leontone Meyer, bachelor of arts in music; Elma Colgan, bachelor of arts in English; Eleanor Muller-Thym, bachelor of arts in English; Jane Hoffman, bachelor of arts in English.

Helen Moran and Catherine Scullin are graduates of St. Joseph's Academy. Leontone Meyer is an alumna of Rosati-Kain High School.

The sorority has members from the alumnae who have graduated with distinction from senior colleges belonging to the conference of Catholic Women in the National Catholic Educational Association. In 1932, Fontbonne became affiliated with Kappa Gamma Pi presenting as candidate Miss Elizabeth McGarry of the first graduating class of Fontbonne, 1927. Miss McGarry is now the wife of Dr. Francis J. Robbin of Lafferty, Ohio. From the class of 1928 Miss Lenadore Bass was chosen.

Misses Florence Noble and Cecil Hoerr represented the 1930 class; in 1931, Misses Leona Hall and Anne Soraghan were selected. Miss Katherine Anson and Miss Eleanor Riley represented the class of 1932. Miss Riley is now Mother Mary of St. Achilleus, F.M.M. The 1933 class was represented by Miss Eleanor Carey. Last year's graduates were Misses Margaret

Catherine Scullin, Sodality Prefect, Will Be Crowned May Queen at Campus Ceremonies Preceding Chapel Services

May, the month of the Blessed Virgin, will be ushered in at Fontbonne with the crowning of Catherine Scullin, the May Queen. The queen was the unanimous choice of the students at a recent election. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scullin of this city, a member of the senior class, and prefect of the Sodality of Our Lady. Maids of honor, who have been elected by each class, will attend the queen. They are: Margaret Bernard, senior; Melba Durbin, junior; Hortense Sandweg, sophomore; Patricia Janus, freshman. Virginia Guyol, vice-prefect of the sodality, will preside at the coronation ceremonies which will take place on the campus in front of the southwest wing of the Fine Arts building. The Reverend W. F. Mullally, pastor of the Church of St. Mary Magdalene, will deliver the address.

The sixteen students who have been chosen to carry the traditional Daisy Chain are: seniors, Helen Moran, Eleanor Burgarin, Evelyn Potter, and Alma Tackaberry; juniors, Vera Gau-vin, Virginia Lucas, Virginia O'Hearn, and Josephine Roduit; sophomores, Kathryn Mercurio, Daphne Ramirez, Grace Viviano, and Ann O'Connell; freshmen, Marie Griffin, Dorothy Farrell, Belva Dobyns, and Virginia Shambleffer.

Six crown and train bearers who attend the queen are: Patty and Peggy Lappin, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Lappin; Mary Jeanne Streble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Streble; Mary Jane Walsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Walsh, and Betty Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Miller.

The procession, which will start from the first floor of Ryan Hall, will be led by Jane Hoffman and Helen Moran, the two ranking officers of the Student Association. They will carry the banner of Fontbonne and be followed by the daisy chain bearers. An innovation at Fontbonne May Day will be that of the newly elected officers of the Sodality, Anna Muschong

Now We Are Raising A Racket About Rackets

We are in the midst of the season when the disease, fatal to scholastic pursuits and ambitions, is most prevalent. Student eyes begin to wander from text-book and blackboards to the newly green foliage and blue skies. It is at this time, too, that such seasonal utensils as tennis rackets are taken from their winter quarters and inspected to make sure that they are able to stand the strain of another strenuous season. But progress is halted at this point because the courts are buried deep in the wild spring verdure.

Complaints have been made concerning this condition for a number of years, but, as usual, not to the proper authorities. We appeal in the name of the school for a more prompt attention to this detail. The gymnasium, swimming-pool, and track are always kept in excellent condition during the period in which they are in demand. The basketball tournament, swimming, and track meets are carried off in a most commendable fashion. But the tennis enthusiasts are forced to delay their tournament until the last week of school, when it is rushed in—if there is any spare time—between examinations. We feel that this is a deplorable condition because many students are as much interested in tennis as others are in basketball or in other sports.

Local Clock-Work Delights Students

Punctuality is one of the cardinal virtues of scholastic life. At Fontbonne this week tardiness is a rare offense. Here, as at other schools, the students are admonished to be on time, but we have the unusual advantage of a choice of times.

If a student enters the first floor of Ryan Hall at eight-forty she can make it up to the third floor by eight-thirty-five, and even then there is no great cause for alarm, because by the time the other side of the clock is reached it will be just eight-thirty. Thus the day is saved.

Students have been heard to criticize the school clocks unjustly. The clocks keep perfect time. The fact that each one keeps a different time should be considered advantageous. We ask the students to appreciate their opportunities. To exceed the time limit allowed by the slowest clock would be a gross ingratitude.

Frank Spearman To Receive Laetare Medal from Notre Dame

The novelist, Frank Spearman, has been this year's recipient of the Laetare Medal by the University of Notre Dame. This medal, an annual award bestowed upon the outstanding member of the Catholic laity, is recognized as one of the highest honors a Catholic layman in the United States can receive. The name of the layman honored is announced on Laetare Sunday, and he receives the medal at the June graduating exercises of the university.

The custom originated with the practice of the Pope in giving the Golden Rose to a member of the Italian Catholic nobility on the fourth Sunday of Lent, Laetare Sunday. The American tradition began at Notre Dame when the founder and first president, the Very Reverend Edward Sorin, C.S.C., imitated the Papal custom and bestowed the first Laetare Medal in 1883 upon the historian, John Gilmary Shea.

Mr. Spearman, whose home is in Hollywood, began his writing career in the field of journalism. Later he produced many well known novels, "The Spanish Lover" being one of his most popular works. "Gunlock Ranch" is his latest novel. Students enjoy his "Robert Kimberly" and "Whispering Smith".

The novelist was born in Buffalo, N. Y., and educated at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis. The Laetare Medal is not the first symbol of recognition which the author has received. In 1917 the University of Notre Dame bestowed upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. In 1924 Santa Clara University of California presented him with a like award.

Other Americans to receive the Laetare Medal have been Agnes Repplier, John McCormack, and Mrs. Genevieve Garvan Brady.

Dear Editor:

The letter of March 29th has aroused my indignation so much that I feel that it is my duty to answer it. It is my sincere belief that the small attendance at Sodality Meetings is indicative of a lack of Sodality spirit and, consequently, a lack of school spirit.

We are all aware that the Sodality is one of the most important of our collegiate activities; yet, by a process of simple addition we come to the realization that the number of students at Sodality meetings plus the number of students in classes is by no means equal to the total number in school.

The girls who are neither in class nor at Sodality meetings at 11:30 on Friday mornings are evidently devoid of interest in the activities of the school. Were we to have meetings at every fourth assembly period some other activity or business would have to be neglected and attendance being compulsory would indicate neither Sodality nor school spirit.

Speaking with the authority of a regular attendant at meetings, I can say that each meeting this year has been short, interesting, and direct. I would appreciate a refutation of these arguments by an increased attendance at the few remaining meetings.

Sincerely,
Indignant Sodalist.

Editor's Note: The final edition of the Font is scheduled to appear Wednesday, May 22. This edition, dedicated to the seniors, will be in book form and will consist of thirty-two pages. Pictures of the graduates and the other classes will be included, as well as news of Baccalaureate Day, Class Day, Commencement Day, and various other important activities of the scholastic year.

THE ATTLER ALKS.....

Suspense in the Junior-Soph Game

The man on the flying trapeze has a rival in Ann McNamara. After she had recovered the ball which had become wedged in the iron supports of the baskets, she was allowed to dangle from that height while her team-mates, blissfully ignorant of her plight, continued the game. If it had been a grand opera instead of a basketball game, what a moment for an aria!

Sister Teresa Martin told the English Survey class the other day that everyone should be thankful for her own intellectual gifts and not be envious of the girl sitting next to her. At this point of the story, Catherine Neville nudged her neighbor, Eileen Kelly. "That's right, Kelly!" she said.

News Reel . . . Dr. Wood observes "Be Kind to Animal Week" by saving the life of a poor, little centipede which wandered into the chemistry lecture room . . . What are the chances for a "Be Kind to Grades Week"? . . . Some of the French students, including Lillian Jostrand and Laverne Bardgett, who saw the French version of "Three Little Pigs" at a nearby movie, waited and waited for Little Red Riding Hood to come on the screen . . . She never did . . . Looks as if the students will skip the jumper idea for a uniform. Who wants her individuality squelched, anyway? What is the difference between a jumper, and a skirt and jacquet, now I ask you?

The Last Judgment, in Sr. Adeline's opinion is down near the Dean's office. (Incidentally, this is the title of a picture.)

Miss Ross and her sociology classes visited the Brown Shoe Factory on April 9. Bet they got a boot out of that!

One brilliant little Promeranian, certain that the battery in her car was dead, allowed someone to push her for four blocks. At this juncture, her eye roamed to the dash-board and she discovered that she had neglected to turn on the ignition. It all goes to prove that a good start in life counts more than "push".

Vera Stueber asked the waiter at Garavelli's for a Bromo Quinine, then added, "Bayer's", please. Just showing the effect of radio advertising when the stations get mixed.

The staff offers its sincere thanks and appreciation to students and faculty who have so graciously and unconsciously contributed to this column. In particular we thank Sister Berenice and Sister Eleanor; Daphne and Doreen; Anne the Apple Girl and her big Butter and Egg man from Belleville.

Marie Pfeifle, and Tattie Olivieri, carrying the statue of the Blessed Virgin. This statue was recently purchased by the Sodality.

Bower Bearers, the presidents and vice-presidents of each class, will next proceed with their respective classes. These students are: Leontone Meyer and Betty Hoffman, seniors; Virginia Kelahan and Laura Lorenz, juniors; Peg Mehring and Dorothy Morse, sophomores; June Thornton and Virginia Nash, freshmen. Each maid then will proceed through the ranks or semi-circle made by the student body to her specific place around the elevated throne. The crown bearers, the Queen, her flower girls, and train bearers will then enter.

The college song is to be sung by the student body as the royal party takes its place. The Fontbonne Orchestra will supply the music. Virginia Lucas will then give a talk on the true significance of May Day. A short talk on the May Queen will next be delivered by Virginia Guyol. She will then crown the queen. The sodality medal, worn throughout the year by the prefect, will be presented to Anna Muschong, the newly-elected prefect by the retiring prefect.

The procession will then march to the third floor Ryan Hall, where the statue of the Blessed Virgin will be permanently placed near the Sodality bulletin board. The line of march will go into the Chapel where the May

Fontbonne Alumna Discusses Year of Study at Sorbonne

Miss Marcella Graf, A.B., '33, addressed the student body at the assembly last Monday. Miss Graf spoke on "My Year at the Sorbonne".

The lecturer discussed student life at the Sorbonne where she obtained a degree in French. She related many amusing anecdotes concerning class procedure in a French university as compared with an American school, oral examinations, and extra-curricular life.

Miss Graf then spoke at length about her extensive travel in Europe, and the interesting experiences she encountered during her sojourns. While at Rome Miss Graf was privileged to have an audience with His Holiness, Pope Pius XI.

It was the lecturer's fortune to visit Oberammergau at the time of the presentation of the famous Passion Play.

During her lecture Miss Graf gave interesting mental pictures of the elaborate art galleries of Florence and Rome, and the delightful calm of the Riviera.

Queen will place a garland of roses at the foot of the statue of the Blessed Virgin. The student body will then recite an Act of Consecration; this will precede the talk.

After the May Day address, Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament will follow. The singing will be done by the Fontbonne Glee Club.

Freshmen To Give Dance May 10 in Garden Setting

June Thornton,
President of Freshman Class.

The freshman class will give its annual spring dance, to be featured in a garden party setting, Friday evening, May 10, in the reception rooms of the Fine Arts Building. This semi-formal dance is the final one of the scholastic year, and is always given by the freshman class. Eddie Lake's orchestra will furnish the music.

June Thornton, president of the class, will serve as chairman of the orchestra committee, to be assisted by Patricia Janus, Mary Lou Sackbauer, and Kay McDonough.

The decoration committee is headed by Mary Jo Rutting. Jeanette Young, Maryrose Kehoe, Helene Keaney, Dorothy Farrell, Jane O'Connell, and Elise Dubuque are members of that committee.

Marcella Carlton is chairman of the refreshments committee. She will be assisted by Virginia Shamleffer, Elizabeth Harrison, and Marguerite Gill. Laverne Bardgett will select the programs with the help of Mary Catherine Amend and Mildred Lottes.

Mothers' Club Plans Annual Breakfast Friday, April 26

The annual Mothers' Club Breakfast will take place on Friday, April 26. The members will attend Mass at 8:30 a. m. in the Chapel, and receive Holy Communion in a body. The Reverend William H. Huelsmann, S.T. L., pastor of Holy Family Church, will be the celebrant of the Mass. Father Huelsmann will also deliver the sermon.

During the breakfast, which will be served in the boarders' dining hall, members of the music sorority, Sigma Beta Mu, will entertain. Katherine Sloan, freshman, will sing: "Ho! Mr. Piper" by Curran and "Lying Little Daisy" by Scott. Elsie Drummond will give two selections on the cello: "Oriental" by Cui, and "Venetian Love Song", by Nivin. Mary Helena Drummond will accompany her on the piano.

This breakfast, which has been an annual feature of the Mothers' Club activities for the past eleven years, is under the direction of Mrs. Henry A. Kersting, membership secretary, who will preside at the breakfast.

For the benefit of those members who desire to go to confession Friday morning, confessions will be heard at 8 a. m. in St. Joseph's Chapel in Ryan Hall.

Officers of the Mothers' Club for 1935 are: Mrs. W. Engelbreit, president; Mrs. W. Solon, vice-president; Mrs. A. Betz, second vice-president; Mrs. C. Hempel, treasurer; Mrs. J. Curtin, secretary.

Six Faculty Members Attend Conventions Held in Chicago

Sister Joseph Aloysius, dean of Fontbonne College, and Sister Mary Henry, directress of St. Joseph's Academy, attended the convention of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools held at the Stevens Hotel in Chicago April 10 to 14.

During the following week April 24 to 26, Sister Mary Pius, head of the department of philosophy, Sister Joseph Aloysius, head of the department of history and dean of the college, Sister Mary Berenice, head of the educational department, and Sister Mary Hilda, treasurer of the college, will attend the convention of the National Catholic Education Association in Chicago.

Paper by Department Head Read at Philosophy Meeting

A paper entitled "The Value of Philosophy to a Student of Literature", contributed by Sister Mary Pius, Ph.D., head of the Fontbonne department of philosophy, was read by Doreen McMahon, Fontbonne sophomore, last Friday evening. This topic was the second on the program of a meeting of the Philosophical Section of the Missouri Academy of Science, held at Bixby Hall, Washington University.

L. C. Chamber, Ph.D., head of the department of philosophy at Washington, was chairman of the meeting. Fontbonne was represented by Doreen McMahon and Marjorie Holton, senior, both of whom are majors in philosophy.

With the scheduled performance of "Little Women" only three weeks away, the cast and set crews are busily laboring to achieve finishing touches for the first night production.

Under the direction of Miss Kathleen Scott, dramatic art director, the charming characters of Louisa M. Alcott's novel are fast approaching reality in the persons of the cast. Prop men are using their ingenuity and constructive ability in the way of set building. These sets will be modeled after the March home in New England.

The play will be presented in the Fontbonne Little Theater, Friday evening and Saturday afternoon, May 3 and 4.

Sigma Beta Mu will hold its final meeting of the year Tuesday evening, May 14. A group of original compositions by members of the class in music composition will be presented.

Antoinette Bafunno will play her Theme and Variations, Scherzo, and will sing the vocal arrangement to Tristesse, also one of her works, with words by Mairé.

Elude in C minor, Capriccio Daphne, and Skipper were composed and will be played by Bluma Nevelev. Rosemary Donley, soprano, will sing the vocal arrangement of the Skipper, lyric by Alice Higgins.

Theresa Burmeister will play her Nocturne, Rondo in D minor, and Change. The latter with words by Jane Hoffman will be sung by Katherine Ritter, soprano.

Sonata in F minor, including the Allegro, Andante, and Vivace movements, will be played by Leontone Meyer, who composed it.

This program will be given at the meeting for members of the club and invited guests. It will be repeated for the students at a latter date.

Plans Completed for Annual Spring Horse Show As Fifty Riders Enter

Riding Club Ready

For Canteen in Park

Horse Show Program Offers Varied Events At Each Performance

The horse show committee reminds patrons that a program entirely different from the one scheduled for Friday night will be offered Saturday afternoon. Riders from the college, academy, and both alumnae are entered in each performance. The championship trophy for the best all-around rider of the show will be awarded Saturday afternoon.

The director also announces that although formal attire will be optional at the horse show, Friday evening, April 26, that night will be known as formal night. This is the usual custom in most horse show circles, and will be inaugurated this year at Fontbonne's show.

The following is the program of events for both performances:

Friday evening, 8:30 o'clock

Drill, best college pair, alumnae relay, advanced college class, W. B. Sparks—exhibiting 3-gaited gelding, best academy team of fours, hunt scene, saddle and bridle, Academy novice, costume race, alumnae best rider, jump.

Saturday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock

Drill, best academy pair, W. B. Sparks—exhibiting 3-gaited gelding, college novice, 3 and 5-gaited class of privately owned horses ridden by any Fontbonne and St. Joseph's Academy entrant, advanced academy class, hunt, best college four, championship, croquet, college vs. academy, jump.

The advisory committee for the horse show is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Winter, the former being vice-president of the St. Louis Horse Show Association; A. A. Engle, secretary of the St. Louis Horse Show Association; Miss Lenadore Bass, B. J. Schilling, Miss Mary Bailey, George Laufer, Paul Flynn, and W. B. Sparks.

Undefeated Freshman Team Captures Basketball Trophy

The old order must make room for the new! However, the seniors had not intended leaving room for it, especially in basketball, but the freshmen changed their plans. The second plate put on the large plaque donated by the Fontbonne Fathers' Club last year will be engraved with the names of the freshman team as the new basketball champions for 1935.

The tournament was hard fought. Each team had a definite objective in mind. The seniors were eager to retain the title held for three consecutive years, while the freshmen were just as keenly desirous to begin making basketball history for themselves. Though both teams were out for the proverbial "blood", a spirit of good fellowship demonstrated itself: opponents were rescued from the floor; favorite remedies for cuts, scratches, and bruises were confidently exchanged.

In the first game of the finals played April 2, Tuesday evening, the score was 33-17 in the first year's favor. The sophomore-junior game scheduled for the same evening was taken by the juniors with the scanty margin of one point. The final score was 15-14.

The following Thursday evening, April 4, the freshmen were cheered on to victory by a group of enthusiastic fans. The score read 42-14 when the last whistle blew. Miss Marie Hanss, director of the athletic department introduced Miss Kathleen Scott, director of the dramatic department, who presented the trophy to Maryrose Kehoe, captain of the winning freshman team.

The line-ups for the final game read as follows:

Freshmen	Points	Fouls
Kehoe, M., forward, captain	10	1
Papin, E., forward	26	2
Bailleres, C., forward	2	1

Mayors of City and Clayton Donate Trophies for Show

Because of their interest in horsemanship, Mayor Bernard Dickmann of St. Louis, and Mayor Charles Shaw of Clayton, Missouri, have presented trophies to be awarded at the Fontbonne Second Spring Horse Show, Friday night and Saturday afternoon, April 26 and 27, at the Missouri Stables Arena.

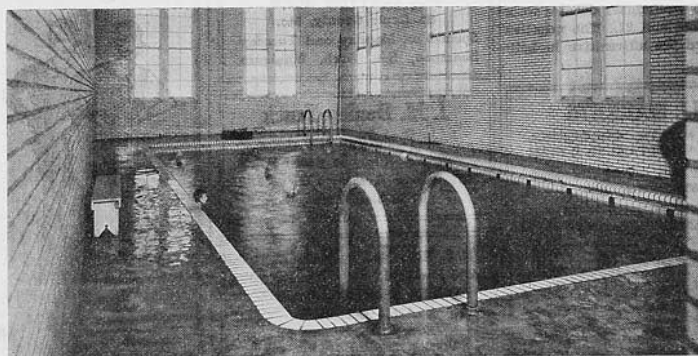

August A. Busch, Jr., vice-president and general manager of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., will officiate as judge. Mr. Busch was one of the judges at the horse show last year.

The trophy given by Mayor Dickmann will be the award for the best all-around rider. The event is scheduled for Saturday afternoon. First and second place winners of the advanced and novice classes of the college, academy, and alumnae of both schools are eligible for entry.

The Mayor Shaw trophy will be awarded to the winning relay team composed of students of the college and academy. This event will be a feature of Friday evening.

Miss Marie J. Hanss, director of the Horse Show, is being assisted on the executive committee by Misses Bernice Sommer, Lucille Remmers, and Ruth Mary Higgins.

Leper Colony Superior Sends Letter to Sodality Chairman

From the leper colony at Nyenga Jinga, P. D., Uganda, British East Africa, there recently came a letter to Antoinette Bafunno, chairman of the Apostolic Committee of the Sodality of Our Lady. This communication was a "thank you" note for the bundles of clothing sent to Uganda by the Sodality. These bundles were collected by the Apostolic Committee during "Tony's Old Clothes Drive" held last December.

Mother M. Annunciata, O.S.F., superior of the St. Francis Leper Camp, who wrote the letter, in expressing her gratitude to the Fontbonne organization vividly described conditions which made such help as old clothes necessary.

A portion of her letter follows: "I confess I have often sat shivering in the chapel in the early morning in summer: the sun never rises here before six o'clock at any time of the year. We have to keep some of the little lepers in bed on cold mornings and not let them get up for Holy Mass because the poor little things are so miserable huddled upon the floor."

The note was concluded by mentioning the fact that on Mother Annunciata's visit to the United States in 1932, she had included St. Louis on her itinerary. While in the city she met the Reverend Daniel A. Lord, S. J., and several other members of the staff of the "Queen's Work".

Affirmative Wins Debate In Freshman Religion Classes

June Thornton and Jane O'Connell defeated Dorothy Farrell and Mary Jane Tyler in the final freshman debate held Friday afternoon, April 5. Mary Catherine Amend presided as chairman. Leontone Meyer, senior, Anna Muschong and Laura Lorenz, juniors, officiated as judges.

The winning team upheld the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved: That the non-Catholic world is ignorant of the Church rather than opposed to it."

This debate concluded a series of elimination contests held in the freshman religion classes under the direction of Sister Mary Alfred.

These two preliminary debates were held March 26 and 27. The negative side defeated the affirmative in both instances.

Complete Plans for Alumnae Breakfast Made at Meeting

Further plans have been announced by the Fontbonne College Alumnae Association concerning the annual Mass and Communion which will take place Sunday, April 28, at 8:15 o'clock.

The Reverend Peter Forbes, C.Sa.R., will be the celebrant of the Mass and speaker at the breakfast. Father Forbes has been associated with the various activities at Fontbonne. He delivered the commencement address here in 1932, and in 1933 he conducted the retreat for St. Joseph's Academy.

The initiation of this year's graduating class into the alumnae will be held sometime in May. The association will also hold its election of officers in that month. The following nominating committee has been appointed: Misses Mary Aloysia Knapp, chairman, Margaret Sleater, Lorene Kavanaugh, and Anne Catherine Meyer.

Sigma Beta Mu To Entertain High School Seniors at Tea

Plans are being made by Sigma Beta Mu to hold a musicale and tea for all local high school seniors who are interested in music. It will probably be held in the latter part of May.

Committees have been appointed to arrange for this interesting project of the music sorority. Leontone Meyer, president of Sigma Beta Mu, will be in charge. She will be assisted by Ann O'Connell, arrangements; Antoinette Bafunno, program; Bluma Kavanoff, hostess; Theresa Burmeister, refreshments.

Sophomores To Compliment Graduates at Theatre Party

At the sophomore class meeting held recently, Eileen Irvine was appointed general chairman to arrange for a theatre party in honor of the graduates.

She will be assisted by Virginia Lee Flaherty, Frances Dolan, Mildred Oldeg, and Minnie Naggie. The party is planned to be given in May.

M. Wingert, S.J.A. Senior, To Be Maid at Military Ball

Mary Wingert, a member of the class of 1935 and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wingert, 7725 West Biltmore, has recently been elected honorary cadet to represent St. Joseph's Academy at the C. B. C. Military Ball, to be held this spring at one of the St. Louis hotels.

This honor is both scholastic and social in that the student chosen must have a high rating in scholarship, and must receive the greatest number of junior and senior class votes. All the local girls' high schools will be represented at this Military Ball, which is the first of its kind to be sponsored by Christian Brothers' College.

Alumnae Homecoming

St. Joseph's Academy Alumnae will hold its annual Communion and breakfast Sunday, May 5, at Fontbonne. At this time the class of 1935 will be informally received into the Alumnae Association.

On the afternoon of the same day a homecoming of the alumnae will be held at the Mother House of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet. After the meeting, tea will be served. All the Sisters who are alumnae of St. Joseph's Academy, and those Sisters who have been connected with the academy will be invited to be present.

The juniors of the academy defeated the sophomores in the final game of the basketball tournament, April 16, and were awarded the Fathers' Club Trophy.

Hope Davis Will Be Crowned Academy May Queen, May 15

Hope Davis has been chosen May Queen for St. Joseph's Academy at a recent election. She is a member of the graduating class, chairman of the Academy Unit of C. S. M. C., and president of the S. J. A. Literary Club.

Attendants to the May Queen are the following students: Madeline Karros, Florence Zahner, Mary Jane Houlihan, Mary Katherine Tammany, Betty Curatto, Jane Olzewski, Helen Marie Badarocco, and Maxine Roth.

The May Queen will be crowned at the annual May Day ceremonies, which are scheduled to be held Wednesday, May 15.

Literary Club Meets

At the bi-monthly meeting of the S. J. A. Literary Club, held last Monday evening, members of the junior class provided an interesting program. Catherine Disch reviewed Vincent Sheehan's "Personal History"; Audrey Wild, "Lust for Life".

Honor Students Announced

Honor students for the third quarter at St. Joseph's Academy are: Hope Davis, Beatrice Doischman, Vivian Harris, Elizabeth Hegger, Helen Vitt, Florence Zahner, seniors; Catherine Disch, Geraldine Macauley, Virginia Martin, Virginia Melican, Audrey Wild, juniors; Alice Cejka, Mae Mosher, Virginia Peterson, Alice Voegeli, sophomores; Mary Ellen Bub, Eileen Hanneff, Evelyn Hanneff, Audrey Hellrung, Mary E. McAuliffe, Marion Mosberger, Louise Pieri, Theresa Placek, freshmen.
