

COME, HOLY SPIRIT

On Pentecost, the Holy Spirit descends into the hearts of the Faithful. Pentecost is not merely an anniversary of the coming of the Holy Spirit upon the Apostles. It is also a LIFE. As the Life of the body springs from the union of body and soul, in the same way the Life of the soul springs from the union of the soul with the Spirit of God by sanctifying grace. Hence the Christian soul repeats frequently the cry of invitation to the Holy Spirit in the Sequence of the Mass for Pentecost Day:

COME . . . Holy Spirit! . . . Lord of Light! . . . Father of the poor! . . . Of all consolers best! . . . The soul's delightful Guest!

COME . . . Heal our wounds. . . . Our strength renew. . . . On our dryness pour Thy dew. . . . Wash the stains of guilt away. . . . Bend the stubborn heart and will. . . . Melt the frozen. . . . Warm the chill. . . . Guide the steps that go astray.

COME . . . With Thy seven-fold gifts descend. . . . Give us life with Thee on high. . . . Give us joys that never end. . . . Amen. Alleluia.

My dear Students:

In the early days of the Pentecost season, which opens for us next Saturday, you will complete your college work for this year.

More than fifty of you, the seniors, will be completing the work of your final year and will leave the halls of Fontbonne to undertake the tasks for which your long schooling has prepared you. To you particularly, I extend my most sincere wishes that every grace and blessing may descend on you both in your graduation season now in these holy days of Pentecost and in all your future years. May the Holy Spirit always guide and enrich you with His glorious seven-fold gifts!

To the seniors and to all of our students as well, I wish these magnificent graces from the Spirit of God. May they inspire you and strengthen you during the weeks of summer so that whether resting or at work, in your home or at a place of vacation you may completely and openly be children of God, joyous and secure in His love.

Yours very sincerely,

SISTER M. MARCELLA, President

TWENTY-FOURTH GRADUATION EXERCISES. Presiding at the conferring of degrees on Fontbonne's twenty-fourth graduating class on Monday, June 5, at 10:30 a.m., will be His Excellency, the Most Rev. Following the graduation ceremonies, the assemblage will proceed to the chapel for Solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, with the Right Rev. Monsignor Henry F. Schuerman, S.T.D., rector of St. Engelbert's Church, as celebrant. He is to be assisted by the Rev. Leo A. McAtee, rector of Holy Innocents' Church, and the Rev. Alphonse E. Westhoff, rector of St. Peter's Church, as deacon and sub-deacon. The master of ceremonies is the Rev. Orlis F. North, C.M., chaplain of Fontbonne.

The Glee Club will provide the singing for the services in the chapel. Their program will include "O Sacrum Convivium" by Remondi, "Tantum Ergo" by Ravanello, and "Gloria Patri" by Singenberger. Processionals and recessionals in the auditorium will be played by students of organ.

Fontbonne's twenty-fourth baccalaureate exercises, with beautiful traditional observances, will be held for the class of '50 on Sunday, June 4, commencing at 7:15 o'clock. The address will be given by the Rev. Matthias E. Martin, S.J., A.M., the dean of the College of Arts and Sciences of St. Louis University, but preceding it will be colorful ceremonies before the entrance of Ryan Hall.

The custom of planting the ivy will be carried out by the president of the class, Teresa Reid. Then the vice-president, Marilyn Jennings, will add a link to the silver chain of twenty-three links, symbolical of the number of graduating classes of the college.

The keys of honor societies will next be awarded by representatives of the Greek-letter groups. Mary McCabe '44, president of Fontbonne's Delta chapter of Delta Epsilon Sigma, will receive Joan McCartney, Joan Dettenwanger, Sue DeLisle, Mary Joy Molumby, and Teresa Reid of this year's class, and with them two members of former classes who have distinguished themselves for their work for their families and parishes—Mrs. Donald Gunn (Loretta Mennelly '29) who is the mother of Fontbonne's largest family, nine children, and Mrs. Vincent Kennedy (Catherine Scullin '35) who has five little daughters.

For Kappa Gamma Pi, its secretary, Ann O'Connell '37, will present symbols to Mary Veidt, Mary Jane O'Brien, Evelyn Murrill, Marylee Byrnes, and Geraldine Wand. For the new music honor society, Delta Mu Theta, Mrs. Robert Lunt (Betty Starrock '39) will give keys to Helen Cataldi and Patricia Ware.

Next the Alumnae Grant of $100 to the sophomore with highest grades and outstanding school spirit will be presented to Jeannette Maschmann. Finally the College Banner will be handed to the new president of the Student Association, Marilyn Miller, by the present head, Rosemary Stapenhorst.

In the ceremonies in the chapel which follow these events before Ryan Hall, the address of Fr. Martin will take place before Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, with those officers: celebrant, The Rev. John J. Donohy, rector St. Patrick's Church, Jonesburg, Mo.; deacons, the Rev. Maurice Byrne of St. Gabriel's Church, cousin of Joan Dettenwanger, and the Rev. William M. Wand, newly-ordained brother of Geraldine Wand. The Glee Club will sing in the chapel, their numbers being Veni Creator, Gregorian; Jesu Rex Admirabilis, Palestrina; Tantum Ergo, Breidenstein; Gloria Patri, Palestrina.

Also in the chapel, the seniors will be presented with their baccalaureate hoods, with the Right Rev. Msgr. Joseph A. McMahon, rector of St. Luke's Church, presiding. Mrs. William E. Flynn (Mary Rita Wahlert '42) will award a hood to Mary Louise Lennemann, who was designated by the faculty for this honor as being the senior most likely to provide leadership in alumnae activities, and will invest her with it in the chapel. Six religious who will receive their degrees in June will participate in a limited way in the commencement week exercises. SISTER MARY CHARITY GRACE of the Sisters of Mercy will receive the degree of Bachelor of Science and a Teachers' Certificate. Sister MARY VIRGINIA DARVEAUX will become a Bachelor of Music and SISTER HORTENSIA GEORGY a Bachelor of Science; both are Sisters of Precious Blood from Roma, Ill. SISTER VINCENT HUBER of the Sisters of Christian Charity will be a Bachelor of Science. SISTER MARY THEOPHILA PAXILA of the Dominican Sisters will also be a Bachelor of Science. SISTER ALATA TURNER of the Sisters of St. Joseph will be a Bachelor of Arts. SISTER ALPHONSE MARIE of the Sisters of the Precious Blood, O'Fallon, Mo., will receive the degree of Bachelor of Music in August. Also finishing their work in August are Mrs. Louise Hershey, Beverly Goldwyn, and Florence King Koecher, who will participate in the June commencement.

Tuesday was a red-letter day of this week for the seniors. At 6 p.m. they were entertained at dinner in the residents' dining room by Mother Marcella, president, and the Sisters, with the lay faculty also as guests. At the assembly at 3 o'clock they held class-day exercises at which Paula French read the class will and Polly Coleman directed the skits. A new feature this year was the award to Marian Bachmann of the CSMC honor, the Medal of St. Louis the Crusader, authorized from the Crusade Castle in Cincinnati and presented by Sister Teresa Mary, CSMC moderator.

Also at these exercises the senior president, Teresa Reid, conveyed the gift of the class to the school, which was received by Mother Marcella and Sister Joseph Aloysius, dean. It is a large coffee urn of Sheffield silver, Grecian in line, selected by the seniors under the guidance of Miss Theresa Carnody of the Home Economics department from the stock of the Victorian Shop in Clayton. It is complete with alcohol burner. The gift gave great pleasure to the Sisters as it practically finishes a collection of silver sufficient to lay a tea table, taking its place with beautiful silver trays presented to the college by the Class of '46 and the Class of '48, and handsome silver candlesticks given by the Class of '47. The gift of the Class of '49 was the chapel bell, christened Regina Angolorum on the evening of their baccalaureate coronations.

A new young people's crusade has been launched in St. Louis which offers promise. In the past most attempts to inculcate standards of decency in this younger generation and to eliminate objectionable literature, entertainment and fashions, have been sponsored by adults, whose motives and methods have frequently been misunderstood by the young folks.

Now the younger generation is taking matters into its own hands. In St. Louis a group of college students has organized a chapter of the organization which bears the unique name of Supply-the-Demand-For the Supply Organization. Miss Patricia Hannegan, daughter of Mrs. Robert E. Hannegan and the late Postmaster General, has been named the head of the local chapter, which has as its purpose to promote decency in dress, in entertainment, in advertising and in literature.

The idea back of the organization is sound. Youth is essentially a period of idealism. Educators can testify that the average young person prefers decency to smut, conservatism rather than suggestiveness in attire, and wholesome entertainment. Now through this organization the young people have the opportunity to encourage and demand standards of decency, which should be an example to their elders.

May 18, 1950

S D S adopted its CONSTITUTION and elected its first OFFICERS at the busy meeting held at FONTBONNE on May 16. Lily Vitt '51 represents Fontbonne in this staff, being recording secretary. Patricia Hannegan of Maryville, elected president by acclaim, was head of the committee which drew up the constitution and has served the movement in many ways since it was brought to the city in March.

The officers are Geraldine Schmalz of Incarnate Word Academy, vicepresident; Rose Niedringhaus of Maryville, treasurer; and Paula Garvin and Mary Frances Stevinson of Webster, recording secretaries. Forming with these officers a board of directors are Mrs. Joseph E. Babka of the Mothers' club of St. Louis University High School, and Miss Peggy Butler of the Children of Mary sodality.

This board will work all summer at its various projects, commencing with an effort to impress by letters the 400 firms exhibiting women's wear in the city this week.

By their S D S editor, Fontbonne students are given this final reminder that they also should work all summer at promoting S D S ideals. Most particularly, they should have in mind S D S standards when they are purchasing and wearing cottons, sports and play and vacation clothes, and beach wear.

REMEMBER ALL SUMMER TO SUPPLY THE DEMAND FOR THE SUPPLY.

Early summer will see the girls' reception room on the first floor of Medaille Hall furnished in a style to match the lively decor of the ballroom and adjacent apartments. Draperies of Faille crepe are to be classic in design, rose pink and soft green being the predominating colors. Furniture of bleached wood, neo-classic in modeling, is upholstered in colors in keeping with these appointments. A plate-glass mirror is already in place on the west wall, and the chandeliers are identical with those in the ball room.

BUS PASSES MAY COME. The regional officers of the NSA will present an outline of a 3-week trial plan to the Public Service Company to obtain the student bus pass for which they have been working. If the trial is refused, the delegates at the National Congress will decide whether they will take the case to the Public Service Commission in September.

In the Congress, which is scheduled for Ann Arbor, Mich., August 23 to September 1, Mary Thereso Hartigan, Fontbonne sophomore who is regional chairman of the NSA, will be on the Steering Committee. Among the activities of the officers during the summer month will be the taking of a survey on the Student Bill of Rights which will be discussed at the Congress.

Thirteen awards for participation in sports were distributed last night at the annual banquet of the Fontbonne Athletic Association at Caravelli's. Students who earned the prizes are as follows: senior, Marcella Vogt, who was given a victory trophy; juniors, receiving sweaters, Betty Daerveldt, Mary J. Gratian, Jeanne Loritz; Lita Le Van; Marilyn Miller, Dorothy Onelson; sophomores, receiving letters for sweaters, Rosmarie Archangel, Clare Burke, Mary Ensenberger, Jane Mitchellotte; freshmen, receiving the numerals "53" for sweaters, Mary Louise Horn, Jeanne Kruonpolmann.

Talks were given by Dr. Wm. E. Van Tany of the sociology department and Miss Betty M. Baker, moderator of FFA, and the officers of 1950-51, elected Monday, were installed. They are Betty Daerveldt, president; Dorothy Onelson, vice-president; Mary Ensenberger, secretary; and Mary Louise Horn, treas-

The sophomores are giving the final social affair of the year, a STREET DANCE on the paved areas east of Medaille Hall the evening of Monday, May 29. Paul Bayless and his orchestra will play. The tickets are 75¢ drag and 50¢ stag. Girls will wear cotton casuals. Refreshments and other features will be up to the usual sophomore standards. Paddy Lorenz, president, and the other officers are in charge of arrangements.

The SODALITY OF OUR LADY on the campus, looking forward to reorganization next fall, has delayed its election of officers until its new program is set up. In obedience to the recent call of Our Holy Father to emphasize the spiritual side of the sodality, Fontbonne's moderator, Sister Rose Genevieve, will initiate plans to have the original rules of the group observed. Assisting her in the reorganization will be Jesuit Fathers active in the Sodality.

In the Apostolic Constitution addressed to the Sodality on September 27, 1948, Pope Pius XII counselled the members that "it is of the greatest importance that the observance of the rules and constitutions of the Sodalities should be considered of much more import than the number of Sodalists, for through them the members are gently led to that perfection of spiritual life from which they can scale the heights of sanctity." Among the helps to this sanctity that His Holiness listed are the Spiritual Exercises (as given at retreats), daily meditation on divine things, examination of conscience, and frequentation of the Sacraments.

Before and after the summer session, which is to be held at Fontbonne from June 23 to August 3, retreats for the Sisters of the faculty and other Sisters of the city will be held. The first is to be from June 16 to 23, and the second from August 8 to 15.

Sister John Joseph, director of the department of music, spent the past week-end in St. Joseph, Mo., where as supervisor of piano teaching for the Sisters of St. Joseph she examined students at St. Joseph's School.

Jeanette Maschnann has been named for the one hundred dollar grant-in-aid given annually by Fontbonne Alumnae Association to a sophomore student notable for school spirit and scholastic achievement. Classmates of hers who were eligible as maintaining an average of at least "B" in their courses are Angeline Bolosina, Elizabeth Breen, Patricia Lorenz, Elizabeth Pape, Mary Therese Hartigan, Mary Claire Nolan, Mary Ann Russell, Ruth Raupp, Jean Anderson, Patricia Herbst, Ruth O'Neill, Joyce Higgins, Therese Lyons, Carmelita Schnelg, and Catherine Young. Jeanette's check will be presented to her on Baccalaureate night, June 4.

Final returns on the horse show held in April are to be reported at a meeting of the Horse Show Association scheduled to 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 31, in Ryan Hall den. The officers of the association urge all students to invite their Mothers and Fathers to attend.

Next Thanksgiving week Fontbonne will be host to the annual convention of the CATHOLIC ART ASSOCIATION. The meetings will be held November 24 and 25, with the Rev. John L. Walsh of Chandler, Oklahoma, the president, in charge.

The last day for the RETURN OF BOOKS borrowed by students or faculty members from Fontbonne library is next Wednesday, May 31. It is important that all co-operate with the librarians in this matter.

The two-year course in THE HUMANITIES, given this year to sophomores only, will be introduced next September to sophomores and completed for them when they are juniors. This is according to a new plan announced a year ago.

The class, Humanities Ia, will meet four times a week next year. Three credits are given for the course since the amount of work to be covered and assignments in readings remain the same as they were when the class met three times a week. The difference lies in the time allotted for the lectures. Four hours a week allows more explanation of literary movements and causes behind them, as well as more time to view art slides. At the end of each historical period an integration hour will be held, with time for questions and answers on the period concerned.

For the first semester, Sister Annetta will teach the history and art, Sister Rita Marie the philosophy, and Sister Teresa Mary the Greek and Roman literature.

Your records will be photographed from now on. Sister Susanne Marie, registrar, had installed on May 22 a PORTAGRAPH, an office model of a photo-copying machine. The new equipment, supplied by a donor who wishes to remain anonymous, costs over $200, and includes the portagraph, chemical trays, electric dryer, and other small units and supplies. It will print with absolute accuracy a photocopy a minute, eliminating the slow and frequently inaccurate manual transcription.

EIGHT DOLLARS WOULD DO IT. The total of CSMC collections for the missions this year was $807.70. Last year's total, the best on record, was $815.39. The previous year, collections came to $716.29. The damage done to a piano at the Fall Festival of the Sodality last November and the consequent lowering of the amount netted for the missions, kept this year's total at its present figure in spite of strenuous work on all other activities of the CSMC. Consequently, in an effort to surpass last year's final figures, the officers will undertake one more project, a cake sale at noon Thursday, May 25. Just $7.69 will make this year's record tie with last year's. Another penny will make this the banner year.

The proceeds of the sale are earmarked for the Convent of the Poor Clares in Tokyo, Japan, who have lived in extreme poverty since their foundation from Canada three years ago and are thus prevented from expanding so as to receive Japanese girls who wish to become contemplative nuns to spend their lives in prayer, especially for the conversation of their native country.

Two seniors, Virginia McGrath and Maurine Reiser, will take advantage of a plan recently drawn up with the St. Louis County Hospital by which Fontbonne students completing science majors will be admitted as interns preparing to become MEDICAL LABORATORY TECHNICIANS. Maurine has a biology major and a chemistry minor, and Virginia, a chemistry major and a biology minor. They will report for duty July 1.

Visual education was the program for the class in Institutional Management last Monday morning when they saw the film "The American Heritage of Hospitality".

The year book, Fontbonne 1950, is one of forty representative annuals of schools throughout the country being gathered to form a traveling exhibit of such publications which will be shown in 88 major cities of the country to staffs preparing books for the coming year. Other schools of this area whose annuals are in this collection are Washington University, Rolla School of Mines, Mary Institute, and Country Day School. Mr. Harry Swain, long an adviser of Fontbonne's editors of year books, recommended Fontbonne to the paper company which sponsors the exhibit.

The prayers of the Fontbonne family are asked for the repose of the soul of a former student, Mrs. Frank J. O'Laughlin, who died May 9 at St. Mary's Hospital after a lingering illness and was buried from Our Lady of Lourdes Church. As Marie Agnes Griffin she came to Fontbonne for two years, commencing in 1934, and then transferred to St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Indiana.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS NEEDED. College students who will give at least three hours a week during the summer to work in day nurseries, clinics, community centers, and recreation agencies are sought by the Volunteer Service Bureau of the Social Planning Council. Volunteers are asked to write or telephone the Volunteer Service Bureau, 505 North Seventh Street, Garfield 2600. Miss Emma Liebig is Placement Supervisor of the Bureau.

Sister Mary Martha, director of the department of home economics at Fontbonne, who is also acting head of the new graduate program of home economics education at St. Louis University, will conduct a course next fall for graduate students, "Recent Developments in Food and Nutrition". Sister is busy now with registration for this graduate program, which opens this summer. The courses, leading to a master's degree in Education in Home Economics, are being planned with a special interest in teachers in service and can be completed in summer sessions. Late afternoon classes, too, are to be held for the benefit of these teachers.

A round and square dance held Wednesday evening, May 17, on the paved area adjacent to Medaille Hall was planned and supervised by Joan Joy Frost, senior from St. Paul, Mo., and will be reported on according to professional standards and left in writing with the college as her thesis for graduation with a major in physical education. In preparing and calling the dances, Joy was assisted by members of the class in Recreation, including Betty Baerveldt, Marcella Vogt, Donna Hogan, and Audrey Klausner. About 125 young people participated in the dancing, pronouncing the affair a success socially as well as educationally.

Marcella Vogt, also a major in Physical Education, is producing as her thesis a detailed, written report on the Penny Circus this fall, which as president of the Fontbonne Athletic Association she was largely responsible for.

A morning in the courts was the field work Tuesday, May 16, of twenty-five members of the classes in American Government and Business Law. With their instructors, Sister M. Eleanor and Dr. Wm. E. Van Tass, they visited the Federal District Court, the Circuit Court of Appeals, and the Bankruptcy Court.

Past, present, and future students of the Humanities course are heartily recommended by the instructors to see the motion picture on the life and work of Michelangelo, "The Titan", which opened at the Art Theatre, 3143 Olive street, on May 20, to continue a week, or longer if well patronized. Special rates are offered for parties of students.

The exhibits sponsored by the Women's Advertising Club at the Hotel Statler attracted two groups of art students last week. Tuesday afternoon the class in Fashion Illustration saw it, and Wednesday morning that in Lettering and Layout. Miss Frances Troemel, their instructor, accompanied both classes.

An additional period each week for practice is being allowed next semester to the classes in elementary and intermediate French and Spanish and elementary German. This fourth period, like all others fifty minutes in length, will serve as a kind of laboratory session, accustoming students to listen to the language, to apply in speaking the principles presented in their previous lessons, and eventually to acquire skill in conversing in the foreign tongue.

The SACRAMENT OF CONFIRMATION was administered to three Fontbonne students by Auxiliary Bishop John P. Cody in St. Margaret's Church last Sunday evening. The students are Janice Pautler of Chester, Ill., whose sponsor is Amanda Balaco; Jeanette Naumer of Ridgeway, Ill., whose sponsor is Cornelia Rindlaub; and Mary Lillian Yoshimoto of Honolulu, T. H., whose sponsor is Mary Ann Mansour. Mary Lillian, who came in January to college here, was baptized on Easter Saturday after a comparatively short period of instruction by the chaplain, Fr. Orlis North, C.M., for she had been attracted to the Church during her school life in Honolulu under the Maryknoll Sisters, and had studied Catholic doctrines and customs. She will remain on the campus for the summer session to hasten her preparation for a teaching career in her native islands.

MR.KINKEL MAKES SUGGESTIONS FOR SUMMER READING

Alert students all around the campus have looked longingly toward the class in CONTEMPORARY CATHOLIC FICTION conducted by Mr. Francis W. Kinkel and have regretted the fate that kept their programs too full to include it. Now for their sakes, The Font Letter has requested Mr. Kinkel to supply a list of novels he discusses so that in the less crowded days of vacation these collegians may catch up on their reading. His material follows. Students are reminded to keep this list for reference throughout the summer.

The Queen's Work SUMMER SCHOOL OF CATHOLIC ACTION at St. Louis University June 12 to 17 affords an extraordinary opportunity to St. Louis Catholics with its wide program of courses in religion and social problems, and Fontbonne students are urged to attend all or part of the week's sessions. Girls to act as hostesses are being solicited, and these from Fontbonne have already volunteered: Janet Haley, Joan McCormack, Patti Trapp, Lily Vitt, Barbara Sullivan, Peggy Murphy, and Betty Roehrig.

NEW OFFICERS. The Science Club, PHI BETA, chose as its officers this week Catherine Nelson, president; Joyce Devine, vice-president, Pura Rivera, secretary, and Paula Hochwalt, treasurer. The PEP CLUB, electing Tuesday, has Dorothy Westhoff, president; Sally Smith, vice-president; Eleanor Kaiser, secretary, and Mary Sue Ryan, treasurer. Barbara Callahan has been named editor of the annual for next year. Lily Vitt represents Fontbonne on the new staff of Eta Sigma Phi, classical society of the Corporate College and St. Louis University; she is vice-president.

A PLACEMENT COMMITTEE primarily for the benefit of this year's class is being set up by the Fontbonne Alumnae Association as a result of discussions at their meeting on May 13. The new president, Kathleen A. Burke '44, is temporarily in charge, and seniors can get help from her and her committee through Sister Hilda, or directly by telephoning Mulberry 9581 any evening or on Saturday or Sunday.

New equipment for the department of Home Economics is being examined in the hope that replacements of many items can be made this summer. The amount of new installations will depend on the success of the directors of the department in securing funds. During the past week the Sisters made a hundred curtains for a local refrigerator firm and set aside their fee, $100, as the beginning of a fund for the new appliances.

The Home Economics Club has chosen the following officers for next year: president, Catharine Miceli; vice-president, Agnes Blandina; secretary, Catherine Young; treasurer, Peggy Lamphan.

The final meeting of the Mothers' Club takes place this afternoon with a gala party in honor of the past presidents, followed by the installation of new officers. Mrs. Edwin L. Kaiser, mother of Eleanor of the freshman class, is the retiring president, and Mrs. Lawrence Fiedler, mother of Constance of the sophomore class, is the new head of the club.

The seniors are still aglow with enthusiasm over the luncheon and party tendered them by the Mothers' Club May 17 at Norwood Country Club.

The French club, LE CERCLE FRANCAIS, at an outdoor luncheon meeting last week closed its business for the year and elected new officers as follows: president, Barbara Sullivan of Webster Groves; vice-president, Mary Ann Kuhlman of Sodalie, Mo.; secretary, Barbara Brinkoetter of Decatur, Ill.; treasurer, Nancy Olson of Kirkwood. Sister Mary Berhman is the moderator.

Dr. Mary Isabel Winslow finds activity for a director of students' counselling awaiting her at her home in Madison, Wisconsin, each summer. This year, as last, she will attend the Conference of Guidance and Personnel Services sponsored at the University of Wisconsin June 28 to 30 by its Office of Student Personnel Services and the Wisconsin Association of Educational and vocational Guidance. She will be a participant in the workshop, "Group Activities in the Student Personnel Program", which has as its chairman Miss Thelma Mills, director of Student Affairs for Women at the University of Missouri and president of the American College Personnel Association, of which Dr. Winslow is an active member.

At its final deliberations of the year, the CSMC Unit assigned Jeanette Masch - mann, its new president, to attend the Summer School of Catholic Action in St. Louis June 12 to 17 with a view to investigating techniques for study and discussion clubs. It also nominated Agnes Blandina and Mary Ann Kuhlman as its representatives to the Fourteenth National CSMC Convention at the University of Notre Dame August 24 to 27. Enthusiastic members who are receiving their degrees this year promise to return in the late summer to establish a Veteran Unit of the CSMC for graduates and former students who desire to continue their work for the home and foreign missions.
